

CODE OF CONDUCT FOR JOURNAL PUBLISHERS

Publishers who are Committee on Publication Ethics members should:

- Follow this code, and encourage the editors they work with to follow the Code of Conduct for Journal Editors (http://publicationethics.org/files/u2/New_Code.pdf).
- Ensure the editors and journals they work with are aware of what their membership provides and entails.
- Provide reasonable practical support to editors so that they can follow the Code of Conduct for Journal Editors (http://publicationethics.org/files/u2/New_Code.pdf).

Publishers should:

- Define the relationship between publisher, editor and other parties in a contract.
- Respect privacy (for example, for research participants, for authors, for peer reviewers).
- Protect intellectual property and copyright.
- Foster editorial independence.

Publishers should work with journal editors to:

- Set journal policies appropriately and aim to meet those policies, particularly with respect to:
 - Editorial independence
 - Research ethics, including confidentiality, consent, and the special requirements for human and animal research
 - Authorship.
 - Transparency and integrity (for example, conflicts of interest, research funding, reporting standards.
 - Peer review and the role of the editorial team beyond that of the journal editor.
 - Appeals and complaints.
- Communicate journal policies (for example, to authors, readers, peer reviewers).
- Review journal policies periodically.
- Code of Conduct for Editors.
- Maintain the integrity of the academic record.
- Assist the parties (for example, institutions, grant funders, governing bodies) responsible for the investigation of suspected research and publication misconduct and, where possible, facilitate in the resolution of these cases.
- Publish corrections, clarifications, and retractions.
- Publish content on a timely basis.
